PLAY
HAS NO LIMITS.

For as long as basketball has existed, there has been the fan experience. The blaring music, the blinding lights, the smell of popcorn and pretzels, the roaring crowds, they have been integral to the NBA since they first founded in 1946. For some people, it is why they became a basketball fan in the first place. The adrenaline rush they get from a live game excites them. It makes them feel a part of a larger family that is as integral to the Hawks as the players themselves. However, this is not the case for everybody.

For some, the sirens cause headaches. For others, the lights cause dizziness. Even the smell of the food can cause nausea in certain individuals. These fans, who are just as valuable as any other fans in the arena, find themselves fighting against the fan experience. These limitations cause distance to form between them and their favorite team, resulting in a feeling of unwelcomeness in the arena of their own home team.

That is where KultureCity comes in.

KultureCity is a nonprofit organization dedicated to sensory inclusion for those with invisible disabilities. These disabilities include but are not limited to autism, PTSD, dementia, traumatic brain injury, and many more. 1 in 4 people in the world today have some sort of invisible disability regardless of age, gender, ethnicity, or socio-economic status. And these disabilities impact how impacted individuals live their lives.

To create sensory inclusion, KultureCity provides sensory bags for those that are overwhelmed by the sensations of the fan experience. So far 29 venues have been certified sensory inclusive by KultureCity, meaning their staff are trained on how to best help those that are overwhelmed by the fan experience regardless of their disability. KultureCity even built 26 sensory rooms league-wide that allow individuals to decompress privately and thus take the game at their own pace with 4 more on the way.

By embracing these accommodations, the NBA is providing all of their fans the ability to experience the game at their own pace. This allows for many fans to finally attend their first game in person, thus creating a larger and stronger Hawks family. Together, The NBA and KultureCity are creating a new future for the basketball fan experience: one that will continue to improve lives for years to come.

HAWKS vs. 76ERS, 10.20.23

ATLANTA HAWKS

Quin Snyder was named the 15th full-time head coach of the Atlanta Hawks on February 26, 2023. Snyder served as head coach of the Utah Jazz from the 2014-15 to 2021-22 seasons, accumulating a 372-264 record (.585) and leading the Jazz to the playoffs in six of his eight seasons. Over his final six seasons (2016-17 to 2021-22), the Jazz compiled a 294-178 record, the third-highest winning percentage (.623) in the NBA and best in the Western Conference over that span. Utah started the 2020-21 season with a 23-5 record, earning Snyder the honor of being named the head coach of the 2021 Western Conference All-Star team, and finished the regular season with the best record in the NBA (52-20; .722) and the fifth-highest single-season winning percentage in franchise history. His 372 wins are the second-most in Jazz history behind only Jerry Sloan.

Snyder finished sixth in NBA Coach of the Year voting in 2017, second in 2018, eighth in 2019 and third in 2021. He is a four-time Western Conference Coach of the Month. He ranks in the Top Ten among active NBA head coaches in wins (382) and winning percentage (.581). The Jazz reached the playoffs in six consecutive seasons, advancing to the Western Conference Semifinals on three occasions (2017, 2018 and 2021).

Before his hiring by the Jazz in 2014-15, Snyder was an assistant coach with the Hawks during the 2013-14 season on Mike Budenholzer's staff.

Prior to joining the Hawks in 2013-14, Snyder worked as an assistant coach for CKSA Moscow (2012-13), the Los Angeles Lakers (2011-12) and Philadelphia 76ers (2010-11). From 2007-10, Snyder was head coach of the Austin Toros (the NBA G League affiliate of the San Antonio Spurs), recording a 94-56 (.627) mark, while leading the Toros to three straight playoff appearances and the 2008 National Basketball Development League championship game. He was the 2008-09 D-League Coach of the Year.

Snyder began his head coaching career at the University of Missouri in 1999, where in seven seasons, he led the Tigers to a 128-96 (.571) record, and four NCAA Tournaments including an Elite Eight appearance. Prior to starting with Missouri, he served as a with assistant with the Los Angeles Clippers (1992-93) and at Duke (1995-99) under Mike Krzyzewski.

Snyder was named a McDonald's All-American at Mercer Island High School. He played in 136 games over four years (1985-89) at Duke University, reaching three Final Fours and earning Academic All-American honors in his senior season. Snyder earned undergraduate degrees in philosophy and political science from Duke, later earning a Juris Doctor and M.B.A. from Duke as well. He is a native of Mercer Island, WA.

We are excited to once again partner with Georgia's Own Credit Union and Vision to Learn to support our youth through the power of sight and reading materials on National Read Across America Day," said Executive Vice President of External Affairs and Executive Director of the Atlanta Hawks Foundation David Lee. "Through our partnership, we encourage the next generation of Atlantans to dream big, as their new eyeglasses will help them see a better future in school and life."

LEADERSHIP SERIES

SEMINAR ON INCLUSIVE LEADERSHIP

The Atlanta Hawks and Papa Johns hosted an interactive workshop entitled, "No Cap: Authenticity in Leadership" for metro Atlanta high school and college students. The workshop was facilitated by Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Expert Dr. Derek Greenfield and included a panel of team members from the Hawks and Papa Johns who discussed the importance of embracing diversity, equity, and inclusion in their everyday lives.

The panel featured Hawks and Papa Johns team members including Victor Balderas (Group Experiences Consultant at the Atlanta Hawks and State Farm Arena), Calvin Pegus (Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, Inclusion Resource Group, and Team Member Experience Manager at Papa Johns), Alexis Roe (Director of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at the Atlanta Hawks and State Farm Arena) and Tim Whang (Vice President of Global Partnership Activation at the Atlanta Hawks and State Farm Arena). Moderated by Dr. Greenfield, the panel highlighted the importance of authenticity in leadership and how to create an environment where everyone feels valued and respected.

The workshop brought together local students from surrounding historically black colleges and universities for a discussion on positive and productive work environments that encourage the success of team members, organizations, and the communities they serve. The partnership uses events such as "Hawks Spirit Days" to provide memorable experiences for youth at select community centers around Atlanta and positively impact the community.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP

As part of Women's History Month, the Hawks and Papa Johns hosted an interactive leadership development workshop as part of their "Business of Basketball" events entitled "EmpowerHER" for Atlanta high-school and college women.

The workshop, which took place at the award-winning State Farm Arena, was facilitated by Assistant Director of Student Leadership Development Programs at Kennesaw State University Karen Boettler. The event included a panel of team members from the Hawks and Papa Johns who discussed the importance of exhibiting effective leadership within their organizations. The panel featured Hawks and Papa Johns female executives.

As part of the event, the young women participated in a workshop facilitated by Boettler on the fundamentals of leadership. They learned about practical strategies that help future leaders excel at managing, engaging, and motivating high-performing teams. The workshop then broke out into smaller groups, which focused on self-advocacy and empowering conversations that build up the self-esteem of future female leaders.

"We are proud to partner with Papa Johns, who shares our commitment to having empowering conversations that build up the future leaders of Atlanta," said Hawks and State Farm Arena Chief Innovation and Technology Officer Kim Rometo. "Today's event is meant to bring young women together and inspire them through stories and tools from established leaders so they can visualize what future success looks like for them."

"We are grateful for our partners at Papa Johns who share our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion," said Hawks Director of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Alexis Roe. "There's nothing more valuable than building an inclusive experience for the next generation of Atlanta leaders and learning how those values apply in our everyday lives. It's experiences like today's event that encourage youth to amplify and support progress toward a better community."

LAUNCH OF HAWKS VENTURES

$50M FUND TO SUPPORT MINORITY & WOMEN-LED STARTUPS AND BUSINESSES

The Atlanta Hawks announced the launch of Hawks Ventures, a mission-driven venture fund with roots grounded in the Hawks' core value of inclusion. The fund invested $50 million in early-stage startups and businesses, combining two primary focus areas: minority and women-led/underrepresented businesses and customer-obsessed businesses with the potential to impact or transform the experience of a product or service.

Hawks Ventures is committed to providing the majority of its capital to minority-led/underrepresented startups over the next five years and finding strategic investments that can benefit the Hawks and/or State Farm Arena businesses.

“Hawks Ventures is exactly the kind of community-enhancing effort we committed to making when we purchased the team in 2015. Creating a fund that could strategically enhance our business and leverage the experience and talents of our ownership group has been something that we have been working to put our resources and energy into from the beginning,” said Hawks Principal Owner Tony Ressler. “Hawks Ventures is an endeavor that our ownership group is extremely passionate about, and we are excited to be able to invest in and work with the significant untapped potential of minority-and women-led entrepreneurs.”

CODED DUNK CHALLENGE

The Atlanta Hawks and Microsoft announced the launch of the "Coded Dunk Challenge," an innovative coding competition for youth to expand their knowledge of technology, ignite an interest in computer science, and introduce them to STEM-focused career paths.

The organizations teamed up with Fair Chance Learning, a company that curates best-in-class educational programs to elevate students' learning, to provide students ages 11 through 18 an opportunity to create unique on-screen basketball dunks through the use of code. The Hawks and Microsoft tipped off the challenge in collaboration with Fair Chance Learning to provide more than 40 middle school students an opportunity to code and create Harry the Hawk basketball dunks.

As part of the competition, students produced and submitted codes to display their best and most creative Harry the Hawk basketball dunk for a chance to compete in the "Coded Dunk Challenge." At the conclusion of the challenge, three finalists were selected to attend the Hawks home game on Friday, March 17 and have their coded dunks displayed on the centerhung at State Farm Arena. During the game, the winner was announced and witnessed their dunk executed live on the court.

We are thrilled to partner with Microsoft and engage our local youth in this interactive and educational event which will help drive engagement and interest in technology," said Hawks Vice President of Community Impact and Basketball Programs Jon Babul. "Through future programming and events like the 'Coded Dunk Challenge,' we are committed to ensuring all of Atlanta access to opportunities that help them grow as learners and gain new skills that will serve them for years to come."

HelpCureHD aims to help improve the quality of life for those affected by Huntington's Disease by contributing financial, emotional, and mental support while trying to find the cure.

THE PROBLEM

There is no cure for Huntington's Disease. Currently, there is a 50/50 chance a child could inherit the disease if a parent has HD in their family line.

There is a way to stop the gene from being passed on, through in vitro fertilization, or IVF. A procedure that implants embryos that do not have the HD gene can cost upwards of $25,000 - $30,000. This treatment is the only way parents who are at risk can guarantee their biological child will be HD-free.

OUR GOALS

- Provide the finances for families who are at-risk and in financial need and are willing to undergo IVF in order to stop the HD gene from being passed on in their family line.
- Our broader focus is to continue developing partnerships with fertility clinics across the country and raising funds to help cover these costs for many more families.
- HelpCureHD has already awarded over 130 families through its grant program. That is over 130 families and future generations that will NEVER have HD.

STEM & INNOVATION NIGHT

PRESENTED BY  State Farm

The Atlanta Hawks and State Farm teamed up for a special STEM and Innovation Night at the N.H. Scott Recreation Center in Decatur. With help from Hawks and State Farm volunteers, students learned about different STEM-focused career paths and explored the usage of various technologies at various demonstration stations. STEM is an educational program developed to prepare students for careers in the fields of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.

Students were divided into three groups and participated in the activation stations led by STEM Wars, an organization that combines audio-video presentation equipment, interactive student response, assessment tools, and hands-on STEM-based activities for youth.

At the drone station, students not only learned how to fly a drone, but also heard about the drone's different parts. The robotics coding station introduced students to different careers in coding. Students also had an opportunity to engage with robots created through code. The music production station included a full mobile studio where professionals gave an overview of how the equipment works and taught the students how to produce a music beat.

 Connecting Atlanta's youth to STEM opportunities keeps them engaged and mindful of their future," said Hawks and State Farm Arena Senior Vice President, Chief Innovation and Technology Officer Kim Romero. "Together with our partners at State Farm, we are committed to providing educational experiences that inspire and empower youth to reach their full potential."

Chase presented a check to the Atlanta Hawks Foundation in support of Project Rebound. Chase's Head of Community and Business Development for the South Brigitte Killings-Luckey presented the check from Chase, and Executive Director of the Atlanta Hawks Foundation David Lee accepted the check on behalf of Project Rebound. Since the launch of the community-focused initiative in 2018, the Hawks have provided more than 20,000 pieces of sports equipment to more than 6,000 kids via the national non-profit organization, Good Sports.

The donation from Chase helped supply basketball and fitness equipment for youth programming at Title I schools and nonprofits servicing high-need communities. Participating schools and organizations received requested items including backpacks, basketballs, basketball shoes, towels, practice uniforms, and more.

As part of a four-part initiative, the Hawks, Chase, and Good Sports hosted four basketball clinics from February through May with select organizations. In February, the Hawks and Center Clint Capela hosted the first Project Rebound clinic at the John Lewis Invictus Academy for local youth. In honor of Women's History Month, the Hawks hosted another clinic at Coretta Scott King Young Women's Leadership Academy. # CAREERS BEYOND THE CONSOLE

PRESENTED BY

The Atlanta Hawks and State Farm teamed up for a "Console to Career" Esports panel at the Ron Anderson Recreation Center in Cobb County. 40 students heard from local Esports professionals about different career paths and opportunities in gaming and learned how they turned their passion into a career. As part of the event, students participated in various demonstration stations.

The event tipped off with a panel featuring Hawks Talon and local gaming professionals including Wesley Acuff (Director of Esports at Hawks Talon GC), Justice Miranda (Director of Operations at Community) and Erich Thomas (Co-Founder of Pharaoh's Conclave). Moderated by Esports broadcaster Zunaïd "India" Suleman, the panel discussed some of the career opportunities that exist in Esports and the importance of diversity and inclusivity in technology and gaming. In addition, Hawks Talon GC Head Coach Ismael Diaz-Tolentino was also on-site and interacted with students. After the panel, students divided into groups and participated in various activation stations where they played sports and action games. The panelists joined them at each station and explained how the different games connected to their individual career paths.

Any time we can impact youth and provide information and resources to help shape a positive future is a win in my book," said Acuff. "It's super important to continue to have these conversations and discuss the many opportunities that are available in the Esports industry, aside from just being the pro athlete."

The Atlanta Hawks HBCU Pathways Program Internships, presented by Georgia Power, is a summer development program that seeks to prepare the next generation of diverse sports, entertainment, and hospitality leaders. This past summer, the program engaged six students in a 9-week summer internship experience, exposing them to various career pathways at the Atlanta Hawks. # LADY BALLERS SUMMER HOOP FEST

PRESENTED BY GATORADE

For the second year, the Atlanta Hawks hosted more than 75 female athletes at its 2023 Lady Ballers Summer Hoop Fest presented by Gatorade. This four-day program is part of the 2023 Jr. Hawks Summer Camps presented by adidas and was exclusive to young female basketball players, ages 8 to 15. The Atlanta Hawks Basketball Academy and Atlanta Tipoff Club, administrators of the national Naismith Awards, announced the "Hawks-Naismith Tipoff Classic presented by adidas," which took place on Saturday, Nov. 18 at Holy Innocents' Episcopal School (Atlanta). The showcase featured eight boys teams and four girls teams.

“Our annual Hawks-Naismith Tipoff Classic presented by adidas continues to celebrate the passion and love for high school basketball throughout Atlanta,” said Hawks’ Basketball Academy Sr. Director Chris Jacobs. “This showcase will be worthwhile for fans to attend, and it is just one way to show our gratitude and appreciation for the sport of basketball and the impact it has throughout our community.”

FULL COURT PRESS

The Hawks and Novelis unveiled "FULL COURT PRESS," a sculpture made up of nearly 404 pounds of upcycled aluminum cups and cans in the shape of the primary Hawks logo. The piece is located on the Terrace level by the Gate 2 entrance at State Farm Arena.

"FULL COURT PRESS" celebrates the one-year anniversary of the Hawks' partnership with Novelis, the world's largest recycler of aluminum, which officially launched on National Recycling Day in 2021. This sculpture symbolizes a circular economy where maximum effort is employed to ensure precious resources are recycled and reused, rather than discarded as waste.

The Hawks and Novelis worked with Taylor Means, a local visual artist, to highlight the organization's shared vision of sustainability. The artwork was conceived and facilitated by Atlanta Art Consultant Amy Parry.

“We are thrilled to unveil this sculpture in partnership with Novelis,” said Chief Revenue Officer for the Hawks and State Farm Arena Andrew Saltzman. “We trust that this will serve as a reminder to all our fans how critical sustainability is to the future of our planet.”

HBCU NIGHT

PRESENTED BY

The Atlanta Hawks hosted their fifth annual "HBCU Night presented by Chase" at the award-winning State Farm Arena on Friday, February 24. The organization dedicated this night to celebrating the educational excellence and unique cultures of the more than 100 Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), originally founded as institutions of higher learning for African Americans. In addition, Chase provided a black Atlanta Hawks rally towel for all fans in attendance.

Prior to the game, the Hawks hosted a panel presented by Chase titled "Evolving the Community: Building a Legacy." The panel featured several HBCU alumni panelists including Dan Ford (Chair of the National HBCU Alumni Alliance and CEO of the Atlanta HBCU Alumni Alliance, North Carolina A&T State University Alumnus), La Keisha Johnson (Co-founder of the HBCU Culture Legacy Foundation, Johnson C. Smith University Alumna), Torian Robinson (Director of Business Development at Alkerm Health, Morehouse College Alumnus) and Rashida Winfrey (VP, Senior Business Consultant at Chase, Clark Atlanta University Alumna). Moderated by Eric Perry, Weekend Anchor at FOX 5 Atlanta and Hampton University Alumnus, the panel highlighted the importance of building a sustainable legacy and how to usher change in the community.

To tip off the festivities, a parade took place on the 100-level concourse of State Farm Arena. Closer to the beginning of the game, the Clark Atlanta University Philharmonic Society performed "Lift Every Voice and Sing," along with the national anthem. At halftime, fans enjoyed a vibrant music and dance performance by Mahogany-N-Motion, the official dance team of Spelman College and the Morehouse College House of Funk band. On the court floor and through social recognition, the Hawks and Chase recognized Hawks and State Farm Arena employees who are HBCU alumni. In addition, there was special acknowledgement of local HBCU leadership from Clark Atlanta University, Morehouse College, Morehouse School of Medicine, Morris Brown College and Spelman University.

The Atlanta Hawks are excited to honor the over 100 Historically Black Colleges and Universities during our annual HBCU Night presented by Chase," said EVP and Chief People, Diversity, and Inclusion Officer for the Atlanta Hawks and State Farm Arena Camye Mackey. "During this unforgettable evening, we honor the academic excellence of HBCUs and celebrate the role these colleges and universities play in empowering the next generation of leaders and enabling growth through educational opportunities, networking, and community."

CROWNING COURAGE

PRESENTED BY CrownRoyal

For a seventh consecutive season, the Atlanta Hawks partnered with Crown Royal to honor active and retired military personnel and their guests (21+) at the club's annual "Crowning Courage" event held on Tuesday, March 21. As an expression of gratitude for their service, Hawks Season Ticket Members generously donated their courtside seats to more than 150 veterans and their guests to enjoy the team's game against the Detroit Pistons.

Before the game, the Hawks and Crown Royal hosted a private reception for the night's special guests as well as Hawks Season Ticket Members. They were greeted by Atlanta Hawks Principal Owner Jami Gertz and Hawks legend Dominique Wilkins before participating in the night's festivities.

Additionally, all military personnel were gifted Hawks jerseys, which featured their specific military unit number. As part of the reception, Director of Whisky Engagement for Crown Royal Stephen Wilson led a special "Toast to Generosity."

Throughout the game, the centerhung highlighted various military members. At halftime, the Hawks also recognized the next generation of military personnel who had recently enlisted.

“We are excited and honored to host these courageous men and women at our seventh annual Crowning Courage event,” said Gertz. “We are forever grateful for their service, and we are fortunate to show our appreciation with a fantastic night at a Hawks game.”

HISPANIC HERITAGE NIGHT

PRESENTED BY  CareSource

The Atlanta Hawks celebrated their "Hispanic Heritage Night presented by CareSource" on Tuesday, March 28 when the team hosted Cleveland at State Farm Arena. The night celebrated the cultures and contributions of Hispanic and Latin Americans through various in-game elements, music, dance, food, and an exciting night of Hawks basketball. Hip-Hop singer-songwriter sister duo and Latin artists Nina Sky performed at halftime.

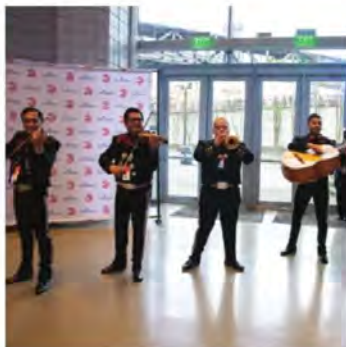

As part of a larger celebration of the culture, the Hawks unveiled artwork depicting Harry the Hawk as an Alebrije on various promotional items to build excitement leading up to Hispanic Heritage Night. Created by artist, activist, and public speaker Yehimi Cambrón, the "Harry the Hawk Alebrije" is representative of the popular Mexican folk-art sculptures of fantastical and mythical creatures.

Prior to tipoff, singer-songwriter and actress Sirena Grace performed the national anthem. As part of the evening's entertainment, fans enjoyed a music and dance performance by Dominican and Puerto Rican singer-songwriter sibling duo Nina Sky. Other performances throughout the night included Los Mariachis, a traditional mariachi band, who entertained fans on the concourse before the game and at the end of halftime.

The Hawks "Hispanic Heritage Night presented by CareSource" is part of the league's 17th annual Noches Éne•Bé•A (eh-nay-bay-ah) Latin Nights program. The program included celebratory warmup shirts and merchandise, team community activities, and in-arena elements at select games throughout the month of March.

 I am proud to create something so emblematically Mexican for 'Hawks Hispanic Heritage Night,'" said Yehimi Cambrón. "This project is an exciting opportunity to capture Harry the Hawk's fierce attitude, while honoring my Mexican roots. I hope my artwork allows the Hawks' Latinx fanbase to feel welcomed and embraced."

TRAE YOUNG BOBBLEHEAD GIVEAWAY

As part of an exclusive ticket package for the February 28th game against the Wizards and a limited fan giveaway on April 7th against the 76ers, the Atlanta Hawks gave away a Trae Young bobblehead. Made in a collaboration between Marvel Entertainment and the Hawks, the Black Panther-inspired bobblehead featured Hawks star guard Trae Young saluting Wakanda and donning the iconic features inspired by the Black Panther suit.

23-24 OPENING NIGHT

PRESENTED BY

The Atlanta Hawks opened the 2023-24 NBA regular season at home against the New York Knicks at the award-winning State Farm Arena on Friday, Oct. 27. Dubbed "Opening Night presented by State Farm," every fan in attendance received a red "2023 Opening Night" t-shirt courtesy of State Farm. To build excitement leading up to the Opening Night, nearly 2,000 Atlanta Hawks Opening Night t-shirts were delivered to 20 local nonprofit organizations throughout the extended metro Atlanta area. The Hawks and State Farm also teamed up for their second annual opening night pep rally at Coan Park Recreation Center. Select youth were treated to enjoy interactive stations that include basketball drills, a meet-and-greet opportunity with Hawks players and performances from Hawks Entertainment.

“We look forward to another great season with the Atlanta Hawks and fans across the community,” said Dan Krause, State Farm Senior Vice President. “Through our continued partnership with the Hawks, State Farm is proud to serve the greater Atlanta area as a good neighbor, fighting food insecurity and building stronger communities for everyone.”

HONORING OUR VETERANS

PRESENTED BY  Georgia Power

Georgia Power and the Atlanta Hawks joined forces to honor and celebrate our nation's heroes at the Veterans Appreciation Game. The event, filled with patriotic fervor, featured in-game recognition for veterans, acknowledging their sacrifices and service to the country.

However, the commitment did not end with the final buzzer. Demonstrating a dedication to supporting veterans beyond the arena, Georgia Power and the Hawks organized a Veteran Career Fair and Seminar following the game. This initiative aimed to empower veterans by providing them with opportunities to build professional skills and explore career paths that align with their talents and experiences. The collaboration between these two entities not only showcased gratitude for the service of our veterans but also actively contributed to their successful transition into civilian life.

DIVINE 9 NIGHT

PRESENTED BY  State Farm®

The Atlanta Hawks hosted their annual "Divine 9 Night" presented by State Farm® on Wednesday, Nov. 15 during the team's game against the New York Knicks. The Hawks have dedicated this night to celebrating the Black Greek Letter Organizations of the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC), collectively referred to as the Divine 9 (D9).

As part of the night, the Hawks and State Farm donated $10,000 each to four local colleges to assist their student population who are members of a Divine 9 organization. These four schools, Clark Atlanta University, Georgia State University, Morehouse College, and Spelman College identified five students by the end of the calendar year who were in need of a $2,000 scholarship to support their educational journey.

As part of pregame, fans who purchased a special ticket package joined employees from the Hawks and State Farm as well as various grant recipients for a community service project in a joint effort with Project U First. Participants made about one thousand LOVE Bags (hygiene kits) that were distributed to Mimi's Pantry and the Panther's Pantry. Nearly 80 students and school administrators from Clark Atlanta University, Georgia State University, Morehouse College, and Spelman College, who received tickets from State Farm, also joined them.

To tip off the festivities, world-renowned composer, educator, musician, and member of Alpha Phi Alpha Melvin M. Miller performed the national anthem. Buster Meadows, President of National Pan-Hellenic Council of Greater Atlanta, and Natasha Thomas, Scholarship Chair, served as honorary co-captains for the game, along with two of last season's scholarship recipients. Pregame on the concourse and at halftime on centercourt featured a stroll performed by members of the Divine 9, including some Hawks team members and State Farm employees.

 After making a tremendous impact on our community at last year's event, we couldn't be more thrilled to team up again with State Farm and highlight the legacy of the Divine 9 in Atlanta and throughout the world," said Hawks and State Farm Arena's Vice President of DEI Impact and Strategic Initiatives Alexis Roe. "During our second annual Divine 9 Night presented by State Farm, we will celebrate the vital role these organizations play in driving meaningful impact in our workplace, workforce and the marketplace."

SELLOUT RECORD

The Atlanta Hawks announced that they entered the playoffs on the heels of establishing new franchise bests for sellouts in a single season and season ticket memberships. The Hawks saw a record 38 sellouts in 41 home games during the 2022-23 regular season at the award-winning State Farm Arena.

In addition, the organization saw a substantial season-over-season increase in ticket sales, leading to one of the NBA's top percent capacity figures at an average of 104% to capacity this season. Percent capacity is measured as the percentage of a venue's total capacity including standing-room-only seats to its capacity in its regular configuration.

“We are grateful to the city for embracing us and helping us create an environment on game nights that represents the passion of this city,” said Hawks and State Farm Arena CEO Steve Koonin.

“The city of Atlanta has amazing fans, and we take pride in delivering a world-class experience from the moment someone walks into our building,” said Hawks and State Farm Arena's Chief Revenue Officer Andrew Saltzman. “We wouldn't be here without our fans who have been so instrumental in helping us achieve this impressive milestone.”

JERSEY PATCH UNVEILING

The YMCA of Metro Atlanta and the Atlanta Hawks announced a multi-year partnership in which the Y and its signature "Y" logo is the Official Jersey Patch Partner of the Atlanta Hawks. Serving greater Atlanta since 1858, the Y has positively impacted millions of Atlantans through its essential programs and services that address critical needs, build the spirit, mind, and health of individuals, and foster communities in which everyone belongs.

The YMCA of Metro Atlanta is composed of 35 locations across metro Atlanta, including community wellness, early learning, and youth and teen centers and reaches more than 250,000 individuals annually.

The Hawks and the Y plan to collaborate on major community initiatives aimed at improving the well-being and health of Atlantans with a focus on increasing access to youth sports, especially basketball. The sport of basketball was invented by Dr. James Naismith in 1891 while teaching physical education at the YMCA International Training School in Springfield, Mass.

In metro Atlanta, the Y serves families, youth, and individuals across 12 counties. The organization provides critical programs to Atlantans including early learning, afterschool care, day and overnight camps, teen-specific resources, safety around water, youth sports and more. Since 2020, the Y has supplied more than 1 million meals to community members facing food insecurity and worked to improve healthy equity in communities throughout the city through its partnerships with Morehouse School of Medicine and Good Samaritan Health Center. Each year, the YMCA of Metro Atlanta provides more than $5 million in financial assistance to help those in need access Y programs and services.

As the Hawks Official Jersey Patch Partner, the classic "Y" wordmark is featured on all Hawks uniforms as well as those of the organization's NBA G League (College Park Skyhawks) and NBA 2K League affiliates (Hawks Talon GC) respectively.

For more than 150 years, the Y has practiced and exemplified the ideals of service and building healthy, inclusive communities that we have emulated as a franchise. At our core, we are a community asset, and we are honored to partner with such an esteemed global organization with a strong local presence and use our platform to help them serve the youth and families of Atlanta through service, resources, and sport," said Atlanta Hawks & State Farm Arena CEO Steve Koonin.
